

Dear Hiring Manager,

My name is Ruben Severino, and I have worked in the indie game development industry for more than eight years. I'm currently seeking a new opportunity in the industry where I can advance my career. Over the past years, I have worked on many small projects focused on commercial implementation and the development of training tools.

I have been involved in many failed projects where development was paused or cancelled because a more ambitious project became the team's focus. This led us to have good game ideas, designed mechanics, and functional demos that were never completed. That is why I want to work for a more structured company, with a more experienced team that can provide me with the experience I need to grow professionally in the industry.

I am eager to bring my skills and passion for game design and development to a team where I can contribute meaningfully and continue growing as a professional. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I can help your team succeed.

Sincerely,
Ruben Severino